True to say Aussies love their sport!

In-fact very few nations have a love for playing and watching sport like Aussies. And you can't have sport without community.

I am confident that over the coming decade the opportunities for Sports Chaplaincy will be substantial. In many ways I like to think that the sports chaplain or 'urban chaplain' is the new post-modern pastor—men and women dedicated to Jesus Christ and the Gospel pastoring their communities.

To do our job well we need to be well prepared! When I started my role at the Melbourne FC I quickly discovered it was more than rocking up and saying, "OK boys. I'm a minister, hear me out!" There was much learning to do!

I would personally like to invite you to join our national Certificate in Sports Chaplaincy (CSC) intensive. You will find the course invaluable for your ministry whether or not you continue pursuing chaplaincy in sport.

You will learn how to relate powerfully to a post-modern generation of focused athletes. Discover keys to effective gospel communication. Be prepared to show leadership in times of crisis and leave a lasting legacy on the lives of sports people and their families.

Thanks for choosing the SCA training course!

Cameron Butler is the National Director of SCA Sports Chaplaincy Australia and Chaplain to the Melbourne Football Club (AFL)
